Fly

If I could fly away
Run for another day
If I would dare to try
To meet a new morning sky

Some things are hard to face
And changes are hard to embrace
And if I would dare to move
What would it prove?

I feel it now
I've always known somehow
It's been this way
Every hour, every day

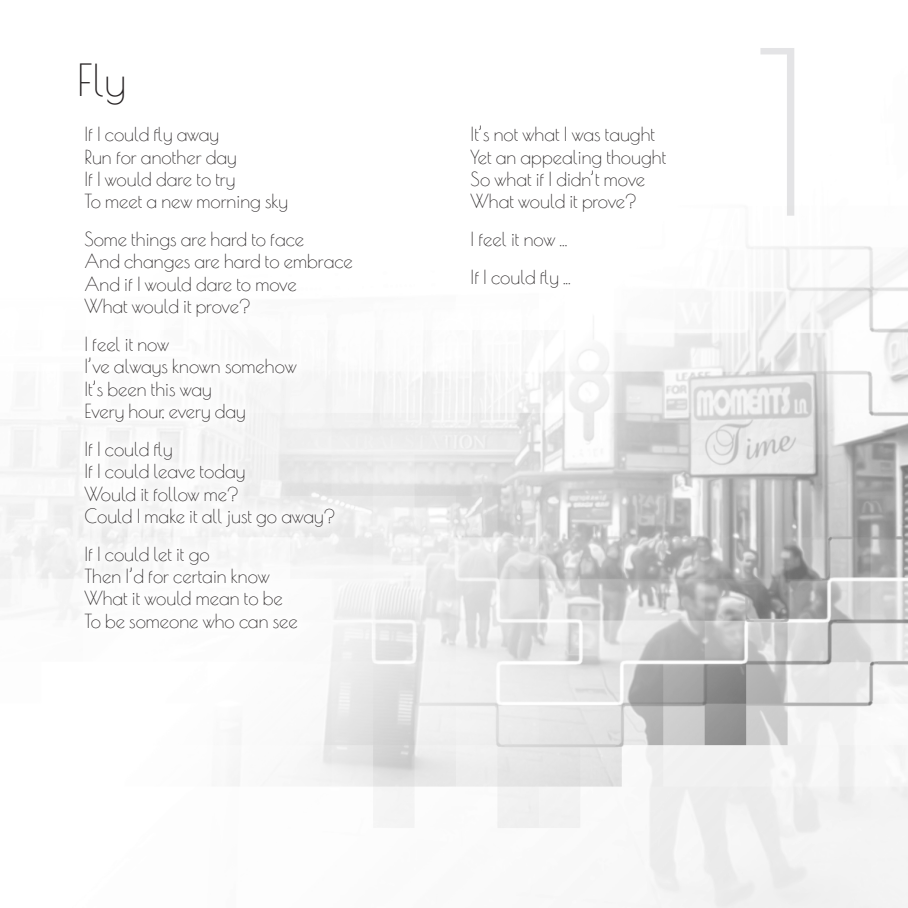

If I could fly
If I could leave today
Would it follow me?
Could I make it all just go away?

If I could let it go
Then I'd for certain know
What it would mean to be
To be someone who can see

It's not what I was taught
Yet an appealing thought
So what if I didn't move
What would it prove?

I feel it now ...

If I could fly ...

Moment

When day breaks from night
In the morning sun's light
I am far from the fight
So how can I save this
This moment in time

Time to leave
It's time you see
Time to leave
It's time

You wake up and smile
And we talk for a while
Unaware of the trial
So how can I save this
This moment in time

Time to leave ...

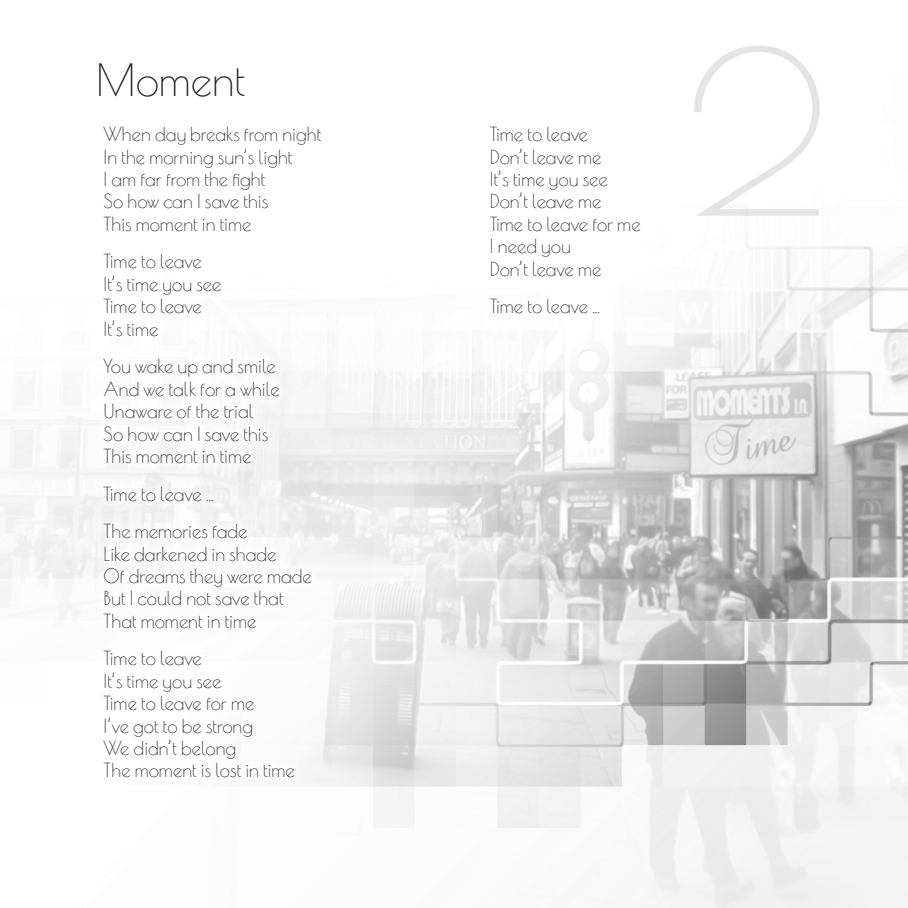

The memories fade
Like darkened in shade
Of dreams they were made
But I could not save that
That moment in time

Time to leave
It's time you see
Time to leave for me
I've got to be strong
We didn't belong
The moment is lost in time

Time to leave
Don't leave me
It's time you see
Don't leave me
Time to leave for me
I need you
Don't leave me

Time to leave ...

In your eyes

I don't claim to be without sin
But everyone has flaws within
And every time they judge me with their eyes
A part of who I am just dies

And then there's those who see through the veil
Those who reach inside my jail
Of all the roles I have to play
There is only one that needs to stay

In your eyes I can see the truth in me
Your eyes telling me it's all that you can see
In your eyes I can see the truth in me
Your eyes telling me it's who I should be

In your eyes ...

Everything I do they criticize
Always put me down with their lies
When all of life's a shade of gray
It's the inner me I urge to stay

In your eyes I can see the truth in me
Your eyes telling me it's this that I should be

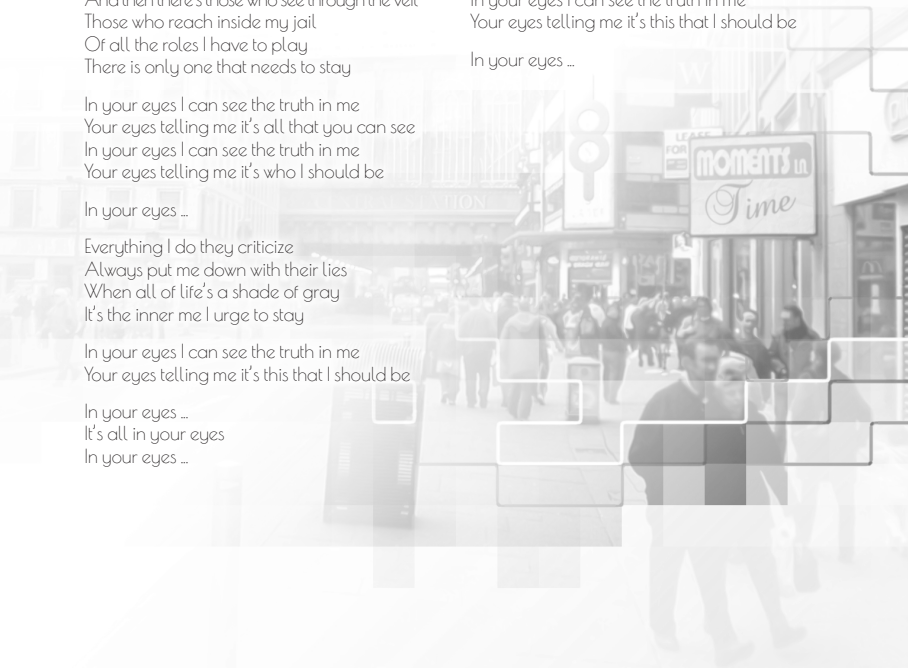

In your eyes ...
It's all in your eyes
In your eyes ...

Everyone in life plays the game
Even when it's just the same
I live my life the way that I can
Couldn't ever be a common man

In your eyes I can see the truth in me
Your eyes telling me it's this that I should be

In your eyes ...

November

The shattered remains of broken promises
Covers the land like mouldering leaves
Empty windows show my reflection
And I turn away in a new direction

In darkest November, when life ends to be
Please let the rain wash the sin from me
When the time has come for introspection
Then I turn away in a new direction

In November ...

For all the words that still are unspoken
For all the vows that are left and broken
Voice of reason raised in objection
But I turn away in a new direction

In November ...

You can only see what I choose to show
The only thing that's sure right now
So forget about me in rejection
When I turn away in a new direction

The voices I hear

There's a hunger inside me
There's a craving I feel
It's what I
Satisfy
Almost surreal

There's a feeling within me
There's a message to give
It's heathen
Practition
So collaborative

You see

It's coming, it's coming
It's coming and oh so strongly
It's coming, it's coming
It's coming and oh so fiercely

There's a hunger that drives me
There's a craving for more
And you'll be
Just like me
I will make sure

There's an outbreak among us
So we each add a notch
Outrageous
Contagious
And it's thrilling to watch

You see

It's coming ...

But there's conflict inside me
There are voices I hear
It's creepy
It's seedy
All that I fear

There's a growing sensation
There's no way off the track
Tenacious
Voracious
I don't wanna cut back

You see

It's coming ...

The hunger inside, the voices I hear
The feelings within, we are seeing it clear
The conflict inside, the craving in me
The sum of it all ecstasy

moments in
Time

Every night

Feeling lonely and so blue, life was cold and always dark
Through the window I saw you, saw you standing in the park
Really didn't think that I could be someone that you would like
Thought I'd take my chances anyway so that I could meet you

Every night I lay and hear your breathing
Every time I look at you
And every day it's still so hard believing
The odds of meeting you at all were so extreme
Every night I lay and hear your breathing
Every time I look at you
And every day I find myself wondering - is it all a dream?

So I went out in the night, had to force myself to dare
Every step I had to fight, just to make it over there
But you turned to come and meet me, then you smiled and took my hand
And you said to me "I'm feeling lost" so we walked together

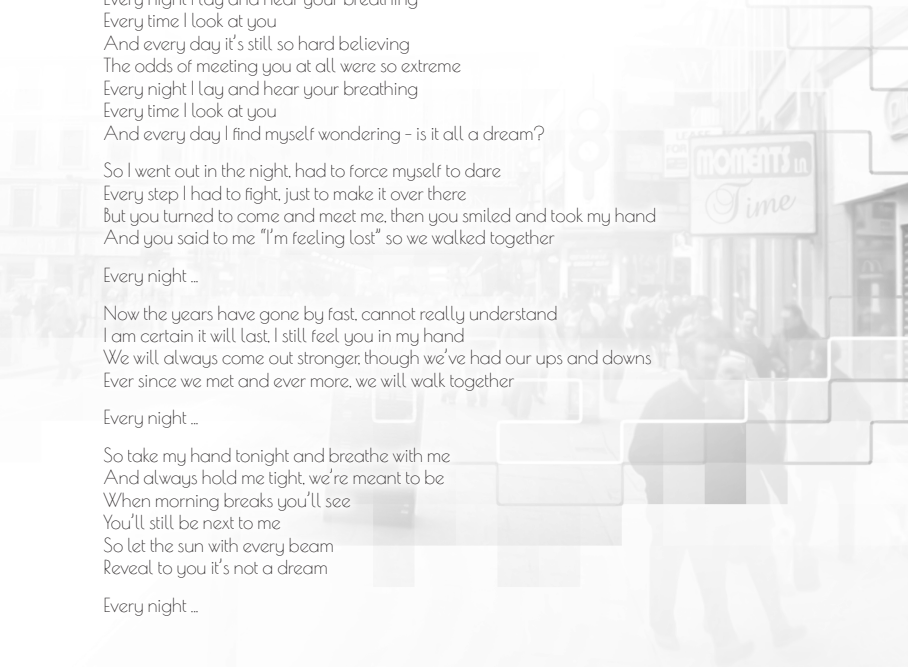

Every night ...

Now the years have gone by fast, cannot really understand
I am certain it will last, I still feel you in my hand
We will always come out stronger, though we've had our ups and downs
Ever since we met and ever more, we will walk together

Every night ...

So take my hand tonight and breathe with me
And always hold me tight, we're meant to be
When morning breaks you'll see
You'll still be next to me
So let the sun with every beam
Reveal to you it's not a dream

Every night ...

Northbound

Whichever way life tries to take, we will stay true
Every day make no mistake, we will get through
In our minds we've set a goal, and it's final
All mankind's in full control, 'cause it's primal

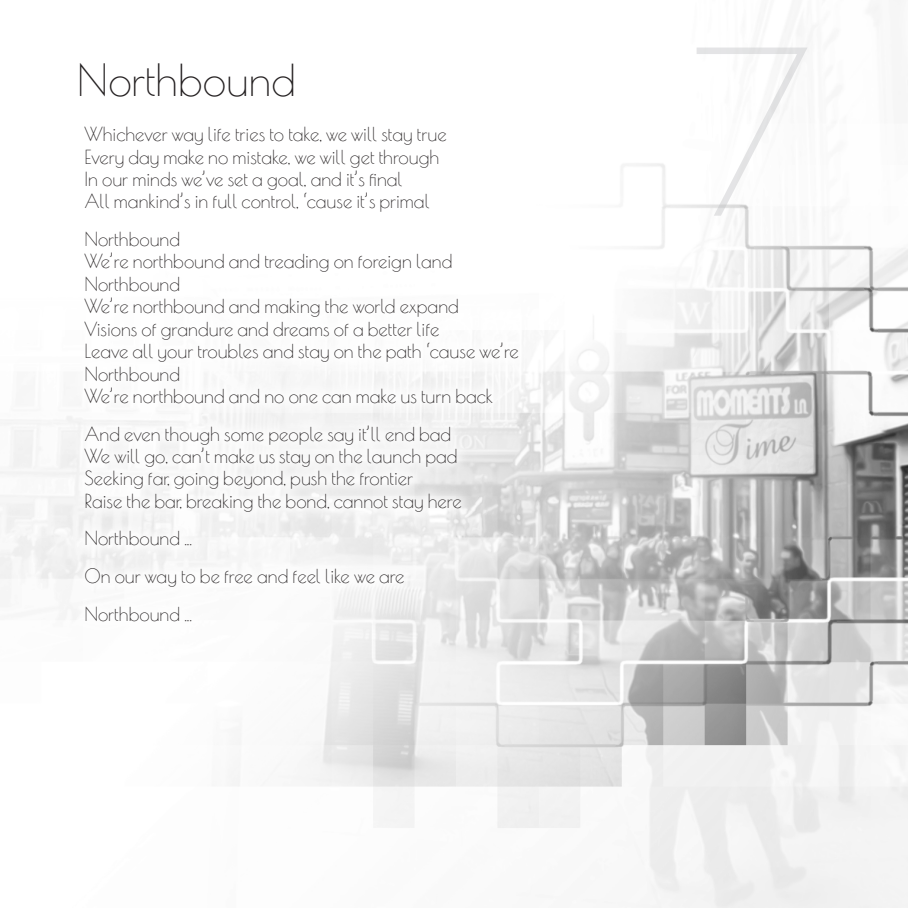

Northbound
We're northbound and treading on foreign land
Northbound
We're northbound and making the world expand
Visions of grandure and dreams of a better life
Leave all your troubles and stay on the path 'cause we're
Northbound
We're northbound and no one can make us turn back

And even though some people say it'll end bad
We will go, can't make us stay on the launch pad
Seeking far, going beyond, push the frontier
Raise the bar, breaking the bond, cannot stay here

Northbound ...

On our way to be free and feel like we are

Northbound ...

To love

Why must it end, why must they go?
Why do we fail, to let them know?
When everything was bright
We didn't fear the night

That was the time for us
That was the time for us
To love

You'll always be, a part of me
Here in my heart, never apart
When everything turned dark
You never lost the spark

That was the time for us ...

Find the source

There's a place where skies are burning
Where hearts are yearning
Where everything's alright

There's a time when moments linger
When knowledge's finger
Is bringing us the light

Now I cannot say
It's always been this way
Now standing tall
Once learned to crawl

There's a way we can recover
We rediscover
We keep each other warm

There's a fix, we'll be forever
We'll teach each other
We'll shield you from the storm

Now I cannot say ...

But in the shadows we found a way
To keep all the wolves at bay
And in enlightenment we found the path to stars

And on the journey we would send up a flare
So others could see us there
On our way, set the course
Find the source

There's a bridge of trust and insight
Of scattered moonlight
Of promises we keep

Now I cannot say ...

But in the shadows we found a way ...

No dawn

Cultures crumble to dust
From greed and lust
Kingdoms rise and fall
And consumes them all
Mountains turned to sand
Justice will withstand
Nations torn away
It's too late to pray

And all their proud stupidity
Revealed with such lucidity

No dawn

Mankind's biggest crime
Tried to cheat time
Better than the rest
Thought they were the blessed

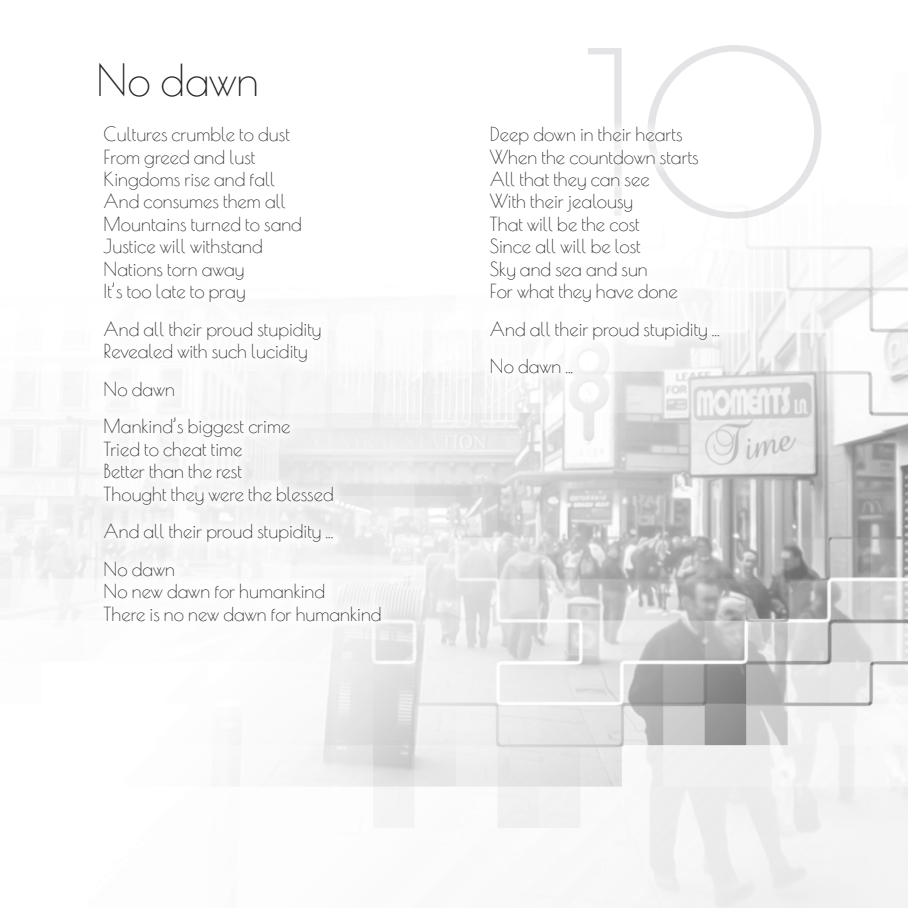

And all their proud stupidity ...

No dawn
No new dawn for humankind
There is no new dawn for humankind

Deep down in their hearts
When the countdown starts
All that they can see
With their jealousy
That will be the cost
Since all will be lost
Sky and sea and sun
For what they have done

And all their proud stupidity ...

No dawn ...

Arc of light

In the darkness I see no beginning
In the darkness I can't see the end
Full of doubt I keep losing my foothold
Full of doubt I'm not much of a friend

Every day when I look in the mirror
Every day I keep turning away
So much fear and confusion inside me
So much I need to say

Oh, why can't I feel, the way I used to?
Why can't I talk to you?

When alone I keep facing the demons
When alone I can hear what they say
Telling me that I don't really need you
Telling me I can't stay

Oh, why can't I feel, the way I used to?
Why can't I feel for you?

Like an arc of light, when I'm astray
Like an arc of light, leads the way
Like an arc of light, shining for me
Like an arc of light, will you be?

I imagine a thin line, a white line
I imagine it brings me to see
If you guide me and stay by my side now
If you help me to break free

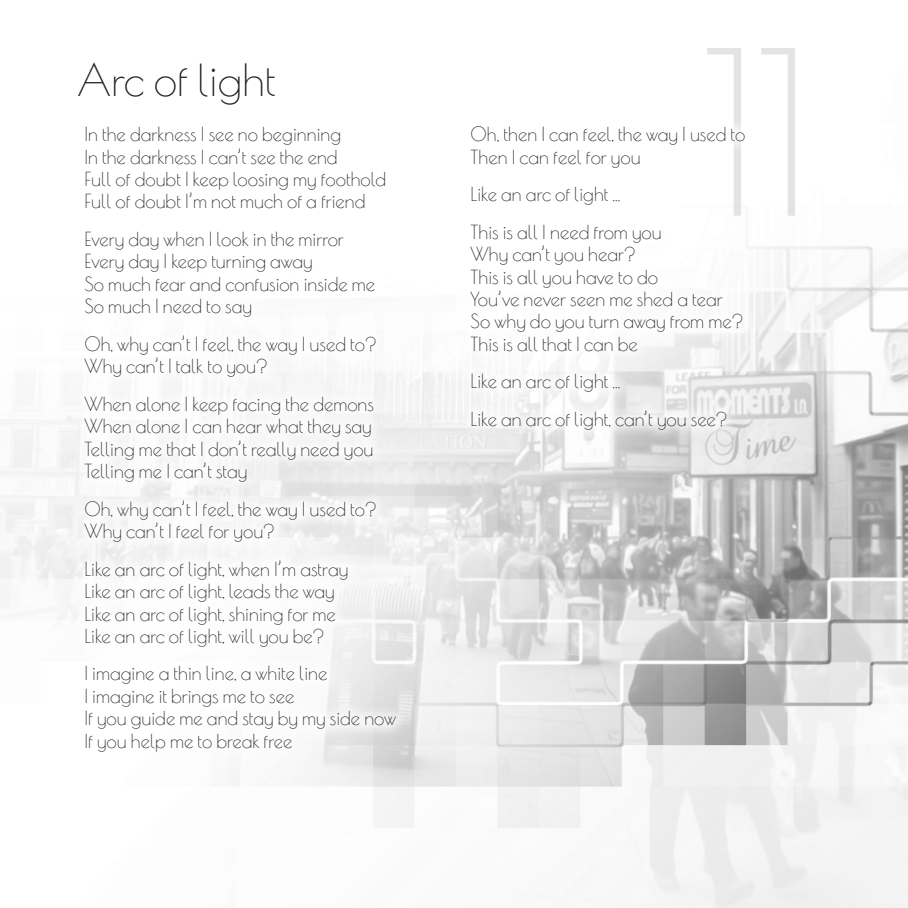

Oh, then I can feel, the way I used to
Then I can feel for you

Like an arc of light ...

This is all I need from you
Why can't you hear?
This is all you have to do
You've never seen me shed a tear
So why do you turn away from me?
This is all that I can be

Like an arc of light ...

Like an arc of light, can't you see?

Whenever forever

I never found the time to reply
Didn't get to the point to clarify
And so we have this thing inside our heart
And every day we act like we're apart

I had no time left to rectify
Didn't give me a chance to tell you why
With all emotions here inside our heart
There's always a chance to find a day to start

And I know you can hear me
Yeah, I know you too wanna see

Whenever you find yourself in troubles around
You just call out my name, and I'll come around
'Cause everywhere you seek me is everywhere I'll be Forever I'll be by your side

There's just no reason to hold a grudge
Nobody is that perfect, who's to judge?
So while the autumn leaves are falling from the trees
I wish that we stop, and heal our injuries

And I know you can hear me ...

Whenever you find yourself ...

Forever I'll be by your side and waiting

Whenever you find yourself ...

My time

For every day that passes by
I have no answer to the why
I keep on marching to the beat
And yet I feel so incomplete

Without a hint of letting go
You kept me thinking I would know
I never thought you'd turn your back
As life was moving down the track

My time is up
And you can't give what I need
My time is up
And you can't see that I bleed

It fell apart so violently
You disregarded every plea
Without a reason to be found
My world became a battleground

Tonight I'm saying my goodbyes
Because it's time to dry my eyes
The flower's dying in the vase
I leave this tragedy with grace

My time is up ...

It doesn't make a difference now
It doesn't make a difference how
You cannot fix the broken frame
You cannot fix what we became
It doesn't make a difference now
It doesn't make a difference

My time is up ...
